

NewLife Missions - 2011

The amazing missionaries: men, women and children leave their comfort zones (homes, relatives, jobs and friends) to embark on often treacherous journeys into the unknown with virtually one goal in mind, to introduce JESUS to the world. These ministers of the Gospel have opened their hearts to the Lord and received His call, answering "Here I am, Lord. Send me". Their adventures begin with the need for funding, as their salaries are based solely on pledges, and a host of prayers, speaking engagements, letters and pleas are employed to raise the monies necessary to carry out their commission. When successful, they're off...many to disease-infested jungles, barren deserts, and poverty-stricken villages in hostile lands filled with strife, unusual foods and tainted waters.

Currently, NewLife supports missionaries in a variety of distant regions, including:

Ireland

Chile

Romania

Nicaragua

India

Nepal

Great Britain

Fiji

Argentina

Iran

The Caribbean

and Vietnam. Of course, not all of them travel so far; some share the Word right here in our own backyard, and all over the U.S. and Mexico.

Approximately sixteen missions committed to many years ago, as well as others more recently pledged-to missionaries from 2009, continue to be supported.

During "Missions Week" 2011, NewLife was graced with Eden Ministries, whose graduates shared part of their lives with us, guest speakers Eric Thume with Chia Alpha, and Childshare-adoption and foster care. These Home Missions meet the same needs our World Missions missionaries meet, and that is to share Jesus with those who do not know Him.

Members and congregants of NewLife are to be commended for their strong prayer support, their love, and their pledges and offerings to our missionaries.

Special thanks to ALL.

Respectfully submitted,
